External validation is important

Independent, expert validation is critical for a proactive and comprehensive compliance program. For many organizations, access to a deep skill set in complex areas may not be available in-house or by financial accounting firms.

Partnering with an objective third party can help fortify your compliance program by providing a fresh perspective and uncovering overlooked areas.

3M offers a deep wealth of experience and proven methodology from decades of working with a variety of client and record types.

With 3M, the accuracy of your coded data will be independently validated so that you can have confidence in your externally reported coded data.

Let 3M do the heavy lifting

With 3M you can relieve overburdened health care teams, bring new perspective and get expert, focused insight into opportunities for your organization.

We work collaboratively with our clients to discover the root cause of coding errors and provide customized education to empower long term success.

Our process ensures your team has the knowledge and skills to thoroughly and accurately code not only routine, but challenging or unique situations (e.g. social determinants of health, underdosing, telehealth, COVID-19.)
