

3M educational boot camps: Advanced quality training

- Take your CDI department to the next level with an intensive 20-hour advanced quality training
- Learn from industry experts to master course concepts and apply strategies to drive concrete improvements in your quality initiatives
- Industry leading experts will provide participants with a clear understanding of how CDI record review, documentation and coding can impact quality outcomes and reporting

Virtual advanced quality training

3M's advanced quality training explores how clinical documentation integrity (CDI), coding and quality efforts can help or sometimes hinder an accurate reflection of the quality of care. The advanced quality training provides industry leading education addressing value-based purchasing initiatives. The training is specifically developed for seasoned CDI, coding, quality professionals and multidisciplinary CDI teams looking to take their programs to the next level.

The training consists of five, four-hour sessions over the course of a week. As a pre-requisite for this training, we recommend at least two years of experience in a CDI/coding role, attendance in the 3M Advanced CDI boot camp, or participation in the 3M™ Advanced CDI Transformation Program implementation.

By the end of the training attendees will:

- Know how to build a clinical record that is complete, accurate and compliant
- Master techniques to drive quality improvement through multidisciplinary team buy-in
- Have the confidence and skill set to support accurate documentation efforts
- Receive 20 hours of continuing education units (CEUs)

Why train with 3M?

3M created the industry's first formal CDI program and has successfully educated and trained thousands of CDI specialists and coders since the early 1980s. With more than three decades of industry experience and more than 3,000 customers, our 3M consultants are not only experienced educators, CDI specialists and coding professionals, but they are also on the front lines working hand in hand with clients to advance and manage their CDI and quality programs. Our 3M consultants take that expertise directly from the field and into the classroom, so you have the most up to date content to succeed in your role.
